Past by the the Bruarfoss Falls to Gullfoss, a two tiered waterfall in the river Hvita. The river tumbles and plunges into a crevice some 32 m (105 ft.) deep in an extraordinary display of natural power. Gullfoss waterfall narrowly escaped being harnessed for the building of a hydroelectric dam.

After time for breakfast and check out, 9:00 AM departure from Reykjavik heading east along the South Shore. Your first stop will be at Seljalandsfoss Waterfall, one of Iceland's most famous waterfalls, where you will have the option to walk behind the falls to view it from a complete 360° angle! You will continue on a scenic route that will take you past the famous volcano Eyjafjallajökull, which erupted in March 2010 causing enormous disruption to air travel across western, northern Europe and the north Atlantic, to Skogafoss waterfall, located on the cliffs of the former coastline. Perhaps the most interesting thing about Skogafoss is that its water comes directly from two of Iceland's most famous glaciers, Eyjafjallajökull and Myrdalsjökull.

Your next stop will be Dyrhólaey beach and cliffs where, after your visit, your guide will drive the super jeep up the cliff for one of the most beautiful viewing points over Reynisfjara. This area is accessible only by super jeeps.

After a break for lunch (lunch can be added and included in your itinerary), you will continue to the Eldhraun lava field, around the village. Kirkjubæjarklaustur was formed during the Skaftáreldar massive volcanic eruption in Lakagígar craters in the year 1783. The field is 18 cubic kilometers and it covers around 560 square kilometers of land. The surface looks very beautiful covered with thick green moss mixing in with the sharp lava standing out from underneath.

Your last stop before arriving at the hotel will be at Fjarðarárglúfur, one of Iceland's most beautiful canyons with the Fjaðrá river flowing through it. The canyon has steep walls and winding water. It is up to 100 m deep and about 2 kilometers long.

Day 4, Tuesday, May 24 – Vatnajökull Region, Kayaking on Heinabergslón, Glacier Hike

Departure from the hotel. Today you will visit the Vatnajökull Region. Vatnajökull Glacier is the largest glacier in Europe, covering 8% of Iceland's landmass. Vatnajökull has a surface area of approximately 8,100 square kilometers (3127 square miles); though it is rapidly shrinking due to climate change, its recession is not quite as advanced as at other glaciers. Vatnajökull holds the tallest peak in Iceland under its ice.

You will have a unique opportunity to experience the glacier while taking a 2 hour kayak ride on one of the glacier's three lagoons, the Heinabergslón Lagoon. Glacier lagoons are formed when the melted water of a glacier erodes a basin at the bottom of an outlet and gathers within it.

Kayaking at the Heinabergslón lagoon

After lunch on your own, you will continue to the immeasurably magnificent Sólheimajökull Glacier. Sólheimajökull Glacier is an outlet glacier of Mýrdalsjökull Glacier, Iceland's 4th biggest glacier. The glacier tongue is a rugged, raw and ever changing hub of ancient frozen water; truly a phenomenal place. On the Blue Ice tour, you will explore the crevasse riddled outlet glacier and embark on a chance to test your ice climbing skills. With its amazing ice formations, sinkholes and jagged ridges, Sólheimajökull Glacier is absolutely an unforgettable experience to hike. You will be provided with all the tools you will need for your time on the glacier: ice axes, crampons, helmets and safety lines.

After your tour you will have lunch.

From there you will continue on a rugged road, crossing glacier river to the þórsmörk Valley (Thorsmork Valley), known as the Valley of Thor, situated in the South Highlands of Iceland between the mountain glaciers of Tindfjallajökull and the world famous Eyjafjallajökull, with Mýrdalsjökul at the rear end of the valley.
